CODE:

The screenshot shows a code editor window with the following details:

- Title Bar: Shows the title "Untitled1.cpp".
- Menu Bar: Includes "Project", "Classes", "Debug".
- Code Area: Displays the following C++ code:

```
1  #include <iostream>
2  #include <iomanip>
3
4  int main() {
5      int physics, biology, math;
6
7      // Prompt user to enter marks for three subjects
8      std::cout << "Physics      : ";
9      std::cin >> physics;
10     std::cout << "Biology      : ";
11     std::cin >> biology;
12     std::cout << "Math         : ";
13     std::cin >> math;
14     std::cout << " _____ " << std::endl;
15
16     // Calculate total marks and percentage
17     int total_marks = physics + biology + math;
18     double percentage = (static_cast<double>(total_marks) / 300.0) * 100.0;
19
20     // Display the average
21     std::cout << std::fixed << std::setprecision(2);
22     std::cout << "Average is : " << percentage << std::endl;
23
24     // Use a switch statement to determine the grade
25     int grade_level = static_cast<int>(percentage / 10);
26
27     std::cout << "Grade Level: ";
28     switch (grade_level) {
29         case 10:
30         case 9:
31             std::cout << "A" << std::endl;
32             break;
33         case 8:
34             std::cout << "B" << std::endl;
35             break;
36         case 7:
37             std::cout << "C" << std::endl;
38             break;
39         case 6:
40             std::cout << "D" << std::endl;
41             break;
42         case 5:
43         case 4:
44             std::cout << "E" << std::endl;
45             break;
46         default:
47             std::cout << "F" << std::endl;
    }

```

The code prompts the user to enter marks for Physics, Biology, and Math. It calculates the total marks and percentage. It then uses a switch statement to determine the grade level based on the percentage, outputting the grade letter (A through F).

7. Supplementary Activity

8. Conclusion

I learned about arrays in C++ and how they are used to store multiple values of the same data type. I now understand how to declare an array, initialize it with values, and access individual elements using their index. I also saw how arrays work really well with loops, especially for going through each element quickly. Before this, I didn't fully realize how useful arrays could be, but now I see that they make it much easier to work with large amounts of data instead of creating a bunch of separate variables.
